DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mittelsteadt et al (6,556,905) in view of Camhi et al (5,430,432)

Regarding applicant claims 6 and 7, Mittelsteadt et al discloses a monitoring and recording system for a motor vehicle comprising a plurality of sensors that monitor and record vehicle parameters to memory media with a time stamp (column 3, lines 20-45) with password protection (column 9, lines 27-34). Mittelsteadt is silent on a distance sensor and a cryptographic co-processing unit.

Camhi et al also skilled in vehicle monitoring and recording system disclose a system that utilizes ultrasonic sensors in conjunction with speed sensors to monitor tailgating and other unsafe driving behaviors (column 7, lines 1-10). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill at the time of invention to include the distance sensors of Camhi et al with the system of Mittelsteadt et al to better monitor unsafe driving behaviors like tailgating.

Mittelsteadt discloses in column 3, lines 52-63 that "data can be processed by a processor and recorded for subsequent access." Although Mittelsteadt is silent concerning a "cryptographic co-processing unit," the invention does include data being processed and stored on non-volatile memory. Mittelsteadt also includes a password protection feature in the invention (column 9, lines 27-34). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to include the encryption of data with the processing feature of Mittelsteadt since this is well known in the art and because of the motivation to secure the data. The encryption would have added an extra layer of protection along with the password feature.

Mittelsteadt is silent on destroying the data if an unauthorized attempt to alter the encrypted data is made. It would have been obvious to include destroying the data because this is well-known in the art and because it adds an extra layer of security along with the disclosed password protection.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 4/24/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The features of a cryptographic co-processing unit and the destruction of data have been rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being motivated by security purposes which Mittelsteadt discloses through the password protection. These features are well known in the art and only add extra layers of security so are deemed obvious.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Art Unit: 3661
